WILLIAM HAMILTON

CHAPTER XVIII

EVY slope with the prosecutor Iriam saked permission to lock the door, and, although surprised at such a request, Murgatroyd went over to the door and locked it. Then, usotioning politely for ber to be seated, he took a chair opposite to here and asked severely:

"Mrs. Challoner, what do you men by this? Do you recall the compact nade nearly six years ago?" "Yes, yes," she answered in a manner that showed plainly her desire to

"Your husband went free," Murga troyd continued, "and when we made our compact we did not know whether was within the power of the law to hold him or to free him. But I kept ing: my part of the compact in good faith. ent or guilty, he finally went

"Yes, yes, I know," she returned you have broken your word, and heav en knows how many times outside.

"Yes, yes," she answered contribute that I have any fault to find with you. Mr. Murgatroyd. None, whatever, have always upheld you; always be lieved in you; I believe in you now." "That's more than Shirley does." And Murgatroyd emiled grimly. He eved her strangely

What do you want of me?" Yes, yes, I must get to the point, she answered timidly and then looked up at him as if searching for some sealon on his face which would the effect of her words, but again good?"
they had been received with apparent Shirley scorned to answer. they had been received with apparent indifference. Nevertheless she said proudly: "Lawrence has gone into ess for himself. Yes," she added quickly, nervously tapping the desk before her with her fingers, "and Lawrence can get that hospital job. He Bloodgood, that," indicating one next wants it-wants it hadly, for he knows to Miriam's. would do it right. Mr. Murgatroyd, it would be the making of his busi-

She paused while her mind struggled beiplemly to find the fitting words with which to frame the difficult request that was to come.

his bond. And you know it is very hard, particularly hard for him, to find e man who is worth that much to go on his bond-a bond that he'll do the work and do it right. Ob, Mr. Murgatroyd, would it be asking too much of Murgatropd gazed at her stendily. "And you are asking me to go on a stoneous bond for your bushand?" The tone of his voice told Mirian

MRS. SYRD HOLLOPETER-

GALLOP DIES. Mrs. Luther Gallop, nee Byrd Holopoter, died at the home of her als ter, Mrs. James Green, in Spokane Washington, Saturday, April 20, and was buried the following Sunday. The deceased was reared in this and was about 52 years old: was a most estimable woman and her many friends here will be sorry to hear of her death. David Hollop of Mexico, is a brother of Mrs. Gel-The Ledger joins other friends i cutending sinters sympathy to the bereared.

J. H. Willeins, eight miles south west of Mexico, 2-4 miles south and 1.4 miles east of Benver Dam School House, offers the services of the great young anddle stallion sired by Chestnutt King 2nd 2079 Lady Berger $265, by Brown Bon Ton 725 Dam Maud Roddy 1952, (1-2 Sister of Ike) by Mambrino Le Grand Jr 1193. Second Dam Flora by Little Billie Demmark. dation stock that has made the Missouri saddle horse so great.

Ireland King (3737 A. S. H. R.)

Ireland King is a handsome individunl solid bay in color, with style KARL ROBINSON stance and action equal to that of his grand aires and they were the Ireland King is good enough to broad the best registered enddle son of W. J. Bobinson, who for Kidney Iroubic Makes You Miscrable mures in Missouri to and the say. Years resided in this city. The deing goes: "Likeness begets like-cenned has a brother, W. J. Robinness;" then bring your best mares 800, Jr., living in Kunsas City, and raise a colt that will do to compets with the world.

Season $15 to Insure Living Colt

Major Elephant

(50559)sired by Black Elephant he by old dy. The groom is an employe of the imported Black Elephant, Dam, a Swift Packing Plant of this city.

Or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant city of states, and to get up many Avenue east from the cast line of Western through the day, and to get up many Avenue east to Clark Ave in said City office and Smith Brothers' Store. The mit a defense, he explained in a was very gentle and very winning as the proceeded. "And if he could get a ffle money-just a little to buy ma-rials. We have saved $500, but that all not go far. Oh, be has worked so "I?" faltered Miriam. "Why"will not go far. Oh, he has worked so hard, and I don't want him to get dis-

Mrs. Challoner inclined her head. "Why, Mrs. Challoner," Murgatroyd exciaimed, holding up his bands in amazement, "I haven't got the money! couldn't go on a bond for a hundred guning at her face as he passed her. After awhile he came and stood over but he was too overcome to speak ceed. And so," he concluded, "I went her, apparently trying to make up his Presently he found his voice and said: in and won without it." he was innocent or not; whether it mind regarding a certain course of action. Finally he said, with great feel-

> "Mrs. Challoner, you are the bravfor his then mistaken views of many play for the little wife who had stood all eyes now rested on Challoner, aspect than they so nobly by him. In a measure enterwho, oblivious to his surroundings, to obtain the sent that they have the case it was it upon them, her eyes glistening, a hap-py smile on her face.

willing hands, she led them into the help her to go on, but she saw there only impatience, and it was with some trepidation that she proceeded: "Ut indeed rather vague. Nevertheless uncommon to know how splendidly consciously both were affected by her probing, but not unkindly, "what are probing, but not unkindly, "what are

"Would you mind locking that door?" Murgatroyd called to Challoner and, turning to the ladies, "Mrs. Chajloner, take that chair, please," pointing to one nearest to him, "and, Miss

Challoner then come forward and placed his chair between the two we-Murgatroyd became chilly, eve looked well in the eye, he began:

"Mrs. Challoner has asked me to go "Lawrence needs a bondaman to get on a $100,000 construction bond to that job, a man with $100,000 to go on you, also to loan you considerable on a $100,000 construction bond for There was a firamatic pause

"There it is," announced Murgatroyd in the same businesslike tone and,

"Those boxes! What is in them?" tepping aside from the table, revealed two old, battered, dust covered

"Those boxes?" exclaimed Mrs. Chaison of Squirrol King 973 and out of a in them? she asked in bewilderioner, who was visibly excited. "What

"I don't know," returned Murgatroyd calmly. There was no question in the mind Third of the prosecutor's visitors but that

DIES IN KANSAS CITY sensational horses of their days and ico. aged 27 years, died in Kansas Knri Robinson, formerly of Mex day. produced the sensational horses of City this week. He had been fill for Do You Get. Up three years of nervous trouble. Kerl was born in Mexico and was the bladder remedy, be cause of its remark able health restoring properties. Swamp and the beauth restoring properties. Swamp and the back, hid sanders were married at the home.

The State of Missouri to all whom it ment rendered accordingly.

And it is further ordered that a church. This was done because of the able health restoring properties. Swamp its may concern, Greetings:

You are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against the above named defendants in the Circuit Court of Audrain County in the pain in the back, hid state of Missouri, for the purpose of ATTET: W. H. MORRIS.

Governor S. H. Claycomb from the church. This was done because of the action for purchasing figure in consecutively, before June 6th, 1910.

A true copy from the record:

A true copy from the record: HAPE-SANDERS WEDDING

"Do you see these senis?" "Yes," she whispered. "Unbroken, are they not?" "Yes," again she assented faintly.

Then followed a moment of racking couraged. He wouldn't ask these suspense for all except perhaps Murtones to use to be something more than you on his bond, won't you?" she asked. "Mrs. Challoner," he resumed, "you ask ask rold rea but the control of the bonders." "Mrs. Challoner," be resumed, "you with a wan smile. "And loan him a few thousand dollars to start the job?"

There was a long silence. Finally Mungatroyd spoke in an even voice: "You want me to go on his bond and loan him some thousands of dollars in the sund was true there they are, coupons and all." "But, Mr. Mungatroyd," protested loan him some thousands of dollars in the sund was true there they are, coupons and all." "But, Mr. Mungatroyd," protested loan him some thousands of dollars in the sund was true there was the United States sensionable for the sund was true there was the United States sensionable for the sund was true there was the United States sensionable for the sund was true there was the United States sensionable for the sund was true there was the United States sensionable.

thousand dollars, and as for leading all the more, inasmuch as it was filled him money, well"—

Miriam ceased abruptly as he sprang no reason to believe that his wife's to use, but to do without the thing or the face as he passed her. Slowly he began to understand, centive without which I could not successful at the state of the stat est woman I have ever known. Please call Lawrence. Call them both back." abruptly, and, turning to Shirley, be added: "I told you once, Miss Blood-of my life is my answer to that." This reply brought to his wife's face a look of pride, and unconsciously she contention that-at least to part-he

Lawrence has done these last five mood and came into the room sminus. You going to use the same and the himself. Why, certainly you know, table, his arms folded, singled out that," he returned quickly, and then, with a charming smile, he added. "I with a charming smile, he added." The big and said: you going to do with all this money?" Murgatroyd's hand, saying:
"You'll have to ask Miriam about "Not another word, old man. It's al have learned that a man's mission is bly affected, and then added: "Unly

> "To think of the time," he said haif save $500f"
> "That five bundred that you saved," ther, Murgatroyd," spoke up Chailoner promptly; but, beneiling over his wife, he added, with a fasciusting stutie: "Miriam, you're going to set me build that bospital, aren't you?"
> But

Simultaneously with Mirium's monesyllable answer Murgatroyd glanced the pros at Challoner sharply, not forgetting t Challoner sharpif, not torgetting dite naturally how easy in the past A slight pucker showed on Miss "Allow a had been for the husband to get Bloodgood's beautiful brow, but she had you whatever he wanted from his wife. replied, quite unruffled:

His voice the post of His doubts, however, were only mo-

There it is. It all belongs to you." But to all this Shirley had been "Mr. Murgatroyd," she now said Murgatroyd took a few steps toward per and regarded her coolly. "No, and you arous " was a sgo." Mrs. Challoner shivered. Challoner, "No, and you alone were right. I

CHAPTER XIX. ides, I was tempted by a woman." "A woman"- faltered the girl.

"Like Adam, I'm blaming it on Eve. This woman wanted me to be-well, really great"- took the money. Oh, you don't know Mr. Murgatroyd. I'm afraid we have about me! You don't know what I was five years ago! It seemed to me then that money was the only thing that could make me really great. I knelt at the shrine of money-loved it as a dipsomaniac loves his bottle."

He paused. Then he continued in a

"Yes, I took money to acquit Challoner, and then I convicted him. Why? Because the instinct within me to do my duty was too strong to allow me rie and I will wait for you in the anteto do otherwise. All the evidence was room." And as they passed out Chal-against him. He had confessed. I loner called, "Wait outil you see that had to convict him."

"And the money"- ventured Shirley. "Like a dipsomaniac—a reformed Shirley and Murgatroyd stood facing dipsomaniac—I put that money as he each other, neither having the courage "Miss Bloodgood, there's only one I knew that every more I made meant person in this room who knows that," the expenditure of money A hundred "Billy, do you be replied emissly. Then 'urning to times—yes, a thousand times—I have think of you?"

E. R. Evans, of the St. Louis Times, was in Mexico on business to-

for Ridney Trouble Makes You Miscrable.

to break them, and then have crawled away-once more to do without the money. Somebow I knew that my time must come. Besides, there was ed by a woman." an who must have her due. It was up oot have any money."

Morgatroyd smiled.
"I spoke the truth. But you"— And Again and again I came into this ofnow, to Challoner's great surprise.

Murgatroyd fixed his eyes on him and said in a velce that impressed them ers on those boxes—to buy the United with a kindly confidence rather, than bring myself to do it. Something always said to me: Too must do without "There's $50,000 is those boxes. 41 For sunt be hones! For must make States senatorship. But I could not To Mrs. Challoner the prosecutor in rofusing was acting merely within his rights. However, her feminine instinct had made her conscious of some indefinable change in him, so she persisted:
"If only you could"—
"If only you could "—
"If only you coul The law set him free! He was inne-cent, and" - She paused and drew

"Can I stand"—
"Yes," interrupted Murgatrope; "you know what money did for you before Murgatroyd had suffered. Manilke, however, he was more than willing to permit the great work that Murga-tropd had done to overshadow comcall Lawrence. Call them both back.

Meanwhile outside in the waiting good, that there was but one way to good, that there was but one way to cure a had millionaire, but one way to reform him, and that was to take possession of him-pity for himself for his then mistaken views of life, the cure of the cure All eyes now rested on Challoner, aspect than they would had be falled ing into his thoughts, though her own who, oblivious to his surroundings, to obtain the senatorship. In the latseemed lost in thoughts, and who can be comewhat complex. Shirler tell what dreams may come to one suddenly lifted from the depths of poverive from the return of the money-crup back again to affinence? But in any event, looking the prosecutor straight in the face, he said in an easy, and define the humiliation of a second tell was thus that Miriam Challenger came straight in the face, he said in an easy, and detarmined volve. pp smile on her face.

"Bully Murgatroyd, a little while ago
"Laurie, Shiriey," she stammered,
"Mr. Murgatroyd says—no, come, be'll tell you himself." And, taking their of my life is my answer to that."

Challoner was too generous not to accept without reservation Murgatrovd's

"Thank you," Murgatroyd said, vis. to make money, and a woman's"—

Suddenly Challoner grew thoughtful

Mrs. Challoner, I must ask you to break these seals. "Oh, no, Mr. Murgatroyd?" she said. and Thorne stalked in.

commented Murgatroyd solemnly, "is worth more to you than all this $890;" them the securities undisturbed, just "Senator Murgatroyd" "Senator Murgatroyd" "Window" are in the securities undisturbed, just "Window" are interested by the securities undisturbed, just "Window" are interested to the securities undisturbed to the securities u But Murgatroyd insisted, and, obey-There's no mistake about that el- as Murgatroyd had taken them, dollar for dollar, bond and bond. Suddenly Murgatroyd felt a touch on > An enigmatical smile passed across he prosecutor's face.

> "Do you, indeed?" he said dryly.

"Why, of course I do. After all, you mentary, for presently he poshed the were bonest, weren't you?" And, not shook his hand, saying: boxes toward them, saying: waiting for his answer, added ingenu- "I thought it would be you. Thorn waiting for his answer, added ingenu-ously, "You were not a thief!" Murgatroyd's face became very seri-

"Yes, I was," he protested. "I was a But you, Murgatroyd, deserve your icity, "do you mean to tell us that thief." And with that he turned to honors. It was one man against the your only motive in taking this money Challoner and said in a voice of great field, one man against illimitable backfeeling: "Chailoner, this money is your ing. Senator," he declared, bowing, wife's; take it. And, great God, man," "I take off my hat to you! You have be grouned, "don't-don't forget what done what has never been done before, it did to you-what it made you years and you've done it without a dollar mg now, Murgatroyd, for I know." And "Yes," he went on merci-tensity, "it is true. It was ued kindly, "Billy, if you hadn't taken my ambition that did it. Be it where would I have been today?"

was tempted by a woman." "Free-free as you are now," said the other man in a low, strained tone.

"Yes," assented Challener, "out of prison, but"-Mrs. Challener quickly rose and put an end to the conversation. "Come, Laurie," she said abruptly, "Yes," be persisted, "I was bribed and, holding out her hand, "Goodby, taken up altogether too much of your Murgatrovd shook hands with the Challoners. But on Shirley making ber adieus he said:

"May I have a moment with you, Miss Bloodgood? Won't you wait. Mrs. Challoner answered for the giri: "Shirley, don't be in any hurry. Lauconcrete hospital, Murgatroyd!"

by Little Billie Denmark. Third of the prosecutors visitors but that the bottle, on the shelf— to speak, the girl filled with shame at fam had brought to him so long ago corked. There it was, it could have the great wrong she had done to the son of the transward Black Squirrel. son of the renowned Black Squirrel son of the present contents all outurally were at there was a new and overpowering motive that got the best of me. Like the reformed dipsomaniac, I was dethe beat of the beat of the beat of the beat of the beat was a new and overpowering motive that you content the beat of the beat was a new and overpowering shake of the head, she saked: "Billy, do you care to know what I

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Eugene E. Hape and Miss Peari
Sanders were married at the home of the bride on N. Wade Street on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The corresponding to the period of the bride on N. Wade Street on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The corresponding to the period of the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sanders and scalding pair in passing it, or the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sanders and scalding pair in passing it, or being compelled to go often.

Sanders were married at the home of the bride on N. Wade Street on State of Missouri, for the purpose of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to opening and extending Olive Street (SEAL) Clerk Circuit Court. May 5th, 1910.

City of Mexico, and Robinson Street on the cast line of Western of Mexico, now occupied by the Post-and is a most estamable yours is an employee of the supported Black Ellophant, Dam, is big femost by Edgor B. This is a bisck follow with white points, about 55 hands high. Also two good young lacks. The above jacks will stand at the property is clear of fine and finish Brothers' Store. The cutting the day, and to get up many high family property with the assessment of the contract of the contra

"And he never told us," came finally Possibly he didn't dare," ed Murgatroyd, with an enigmatical smile. "Just at that time Thorne and Thorne's crowd held the public in the take the money and not touch it," she hollow of their hands. So perhaps, declared with true feminine logic, he added sarcastically, "the news about Penmican was suppressed for the public good."

"And you"- spoke up Shirley, her eyes flashing, but got no further, for Murgatroyd went on addressing Chalchalloner blinked stupidly at the was wreathed in smiles, for she knew that their future happiness was as-sured-that the name of Challoner would be cleared of its state. But Shirley was not yet satisfied and her eyes were blazing as she ex-

"It was not you who set him free deep breath before going on, "You took lion dollars to set him free?" Murgatroyd ross suddenly. "This is the second time this charge has been made against me, once at the trial and again here. You under-stand the nature of this charge? be asked Shirley, looking her full in the oyes. "What proofs have you?"

Shirley pointed to Miriam.
"Mrs. Challoner is my proof." Murgatroyd turned his gaze now or Miriam, whose expression of joy has not changed, and asked: "Mrs. Challoner, do you renew this

But before Mrs. Challoner could an swer Shirley broke in with: "Prosecutor Murgatroyd, a moment please!" And on the prosecutor's turn ing his gaze on her she continued "You know I am speaking the truth Mrs. Challoner has tried to convince me that this belie was not a crime, in asmuch as you had kent faith wir her, but she knows as what my opinion is on the subject. told you in the courtroom what I thought and again on another occasion. I have not changed. No; you are "You've stolen; you're a"-There came a loud knock upon

"Come in!" called Murgatroyd "Sorry to interrupt you, Mr. Prose ntor," said Mixiey on entering.

Mr. Thorne is outside."

Murgatroyd shook his head. "Fell Mr. Thorne I'm busy." or Thorne says that be m e you. He won't wait." Murgatroyd ordered Thorne kept ou On Mixley's retreating Shirley once nore stepped forward, and her lips were parted to speak when suddenly the door was thrust open violen aloud. "that it took Miriam and me to "Surely you must know that I believe came Mixley, trying to hold him back, but the other jerked himself free, an

"Senator Murgatroyd!"
"W-what," excisimed Murgatroyd

"I want to shake hands with you. Then I'm the first to announce it." "And I believe you, Billy," said Good!" Thorne proceeded to tell Murgatroy that the latter had just been chosen on joint ballot, majority in both houses, for the senatorship, ending with: "Allow me allow me to congrat

His voice rang true, even though b did not mean it, and Murgatroy

You put up a good fight."
"We did. you mean," proteste Thorne, "My crowd did, as usual. You're the first man in the state," be Mrs. Challoner shivered. Challoner.

went on frankly, "to be chosen by the she had left in the office was sufficient to tell Miriam that she had great news without a dollar behind you."

we'll take it. I'm not a bit afraid without a dollar behind you."

Murgatroyd shook his head. "Thorne, it looked like you." "No. And we've learned somethin by all this," Thorne went on. "We're beginning to find out that the peop worship honesty above all things. Oh. said: yes, I'm bonest," he continued hastily.
"I understand that. But you-your honesty is the real thing-and the people know it too."

Turning to her friends, Shirley muttered satirically: CEDAR LODGE SANATORIUM Now McGrath, as usual, had follow ed close on the footsteps of Mixley. and, standing in the door, he yelled: "Three cheers for Senator Murga-troyd!" And Misley and Thorne, born and bred to political meetings, gave them with a will, while Shirley and the allence.

Murgatroyd looked at his men in aurprise "Where have you been all this time?"

"Outside," they answered sheepishly, "You get that evidence and have it Edgewater, Denver, Colo here by 2 o'clock." The men piled out in confusion. A moment later Thorne took up his hat and, holding out his hand, repent-

"Accept my congratulations ones denly excisimed, "I thought we were and where the plaintiff will ask for the appointment of a commission to CHURCH EXPELS The City of Mexico, Plaintiff, assess and determine the damages fod the taking of said property and the J. B. Botkin, D. M. Roberts, Richard amounts to be assessed against the By unanimous vote of the 230 mein With a Larne Back?

F. Worsham, Mary Ella Worsham, property in the district aforesaid to pay the same, and when and where left. A. W. Powell, Sarah Logan, you may appear and defend such accordance to the pay the same and where and where and where left. A. W. Powell, Sarah Logan, you may appear and defend such accordance to the pay the same and where left. The property is the district aforesaid to pay the same and where and where left. Bartist Church here adopted resolutions presented one Harrietz L. Turner and Wm. Han-tion; otherwise plaintiff's petition month ago by the Committee of Dea-

I want to sell the Preloar Block in the congregation to act as it saw

"Perhaps if I had cared less I"ten now to his consuring his "I think it was a far faer thing to deciared with true feminine logic, "than never to have taken it at all." "But what if this habit shot upon me?" he retorted smilingly. "Ev-idently Miss Bloodgood doesn't know what graft awaits me in Washington.

"To think that you accomplis-observed. "It means that one has to keep up the social game, the club game, the political game, and Lord knows what other games on $7,500 s

He and his family must live on a back street in the capital and freeze. That's what faces a senstor who lives on his salary."

"But doesn't poverty always travel hand in hand with greatness?" she re-marked enthusiastically and with superb disdain for anything that she may have said heretofore to the con-Murgatroyd looked at her with adon. Never before had she seemed to him so lovely. "There's one thing-one thing that 1 didn't tell Challener and his wife," he said, lowering his voice almost to a whisper. "Can you guess what that something was that always made me reep my hands off those fron boxes?"

Shirley lifted her eyes to his in quick "It was my love for the woman who ranted me to be great," be went on in a voice so shaken with emotion that he scarcely recognized it as belonging to him. "That was the motive that beat down all others."

"And will you forgive the foolist lips that told you to go wrong?" For answer he held out his arms t her, and she came to them. Then be stooped down and, catching her face between his bands, raised it slowly and kissed the lips tenderly, murmu ing lovingly:
"Her soul would not

After a moment Shirley slowly drew erself out of his arms and, placing a hand on each of his shoulders, asked aughingly, looking deep into his eyes; "And we'll go to Washington?" "Yes, dear," he smiled back. "We're going to Washington-to freeze and sturve together on that back street. Yes, my revenge is now complete."

Before he could kiss her a second time Shirley darted to the door, opened "Miriam, Laurie, come hereback!" ed innocently. "What for, my dear? Are you going to lynch bim?" Blushing furiously, Shirley waved her hand at the boxes on the table and "Billy says that you've gone off and

DENVER, COLORADO. This Institution gives all the adantages of Colorado climate and th Sity of Denver. Has an advantage er some of the larger Tubercular to the care of each patient. We state definitely that our table Rates and other information fur nished on application. Address all Mail P. O. Box 1006

Mrs. Annie M. Todd Manager. AUDRAIN'S DELEGATES TO

TAX CONVENTION "Accept my congratuations once more senator." He turned to go, and with Mayor Poets, has appointed del so caused the water to drain on Wabash for $1968.85. The plaintiff's property as to damage him grows out of a shipment of The County Court, in conjunctio are: C. P. Clark, E. C. Waters, S P. Emmons, Jas. Crawford, Geo. W. Gillasple. The plaintiff alleges in her some of the animals were injured in

S. H. CLAYCOMB. Joplin, Mo., May 6. Defendants, will be taken as confessed and judg cons, expelling former Lieutenant-> taken without discussion. Mr. Claycomb was not Neither was he represented. He carried out his determination to remain away from the meeting and allow the sum of $2200. The suit Institutions by being able to give brought on two counts and for $1100 dollars. closer supervision to the food and on each. The plaintiff alleges the Chyde Harrison has brought and Frieht and James Montague defendants have no constructed their against the U. S. Express Comis in no case surpassed in any sana- farm in such a manner that the wate es he claims the Company refuse mett, J. E. Northcutt, A. E. nusing damages to him.

South Jefferson St. Addition To MEXICO, MISSOURI

The Most Beautiful Ever! DON'T FAIL TO TAKE A LOOK

Judge John A. Stewart, of Columbia; Doc Biggs, of Bowling Green, and Col. Jim Johnson : : : Auctioneers

Addition and the defendant the demned for street purposes.

vorce against her husband, Ollie city. The plaintiff alleges deniy excisioned. Thought the some of the animals were injured in petition non-support, cruelty and that support due to negligence of the her husband refused to go with her railroad company. oburch or places of amusement. She alleges the defendant squan PETIT JURORS APdered what money of here he could POINTED FOR THE JUNE TERM. get and also charges drunkenness. The Audrain County Court has ap-She asks that the Court allow her pointed the following for the to keep their 5 years old son, jury for the June term of Lillie and Albert Walker hav Stalling township; S. R. Ridge FILED SATURDAY, "Hed suit against Mr. and Mrs. L. M L. Cleveland, C. R. Sporling S. Mark M. Givens has filed suit Saunders for the setting aside of a E. Sims, Wilson twp.; A 6 gainst the Louisiana and Missouri quit claim deed she gave defend W. W. Harper, C. R. Brown, River R. R. Co., and C. & A. Co. in ants last fall on property in this Luckie, Milk Harrison and is city to the value of several thousand Cook, Sait River twp.; E. R.

road bed that runs alongside his pany for $62, a balance on his wag- Trafchell, Louire two; J. W. is caused to flow on plaintiff's land, to pay to him. It embraces a period J. C. Gray, W. P. Johnson of extending from 1905 through part of W. Butts, Cuivre twp. Orval Harrison also files suit 1908. against P. L. Morris on two counts. The city files suit against the for $60 on each. The plaintiff in properly owners that have ground veterinary, physician and surs owner of lot 14 which joins his. The Wm. Cunningham and Robert Fer. Dr. Hemur makes a special plaintiff alleges that defendant has ris have filed soft against the chronic and acute casso caused the water to drain on Wabsah for $1968.85. The suit chartes hypodermically for Lots Giliaspie has filed suit for di-hornes from Des Molnes, In., to this 511, Mutani 56, 10-4, dil

E. L. Prather and K. M. Smith

Women Suffer

much needless pain when they delay using Cardui for their female troubles. Cardui has been found to relieve headache, backache, pain in the side and dizziness, arising from deranged organs. It does more than relieve, -if used persistently, -many have written to say that it cured them.

It Will Help You

Mrs. Maxwell Johnson, Tampa, Pla., writes: "Cardui cured ing with numb spells ever since I was 16 years old. One day I that it has cured me. I have now taken 5 bottles and I can say a long and fair trial."

Mrs. Johnson suffered years. Have you? Do you wish to?

But why suffer at all? Take Cardui. Give it a fair trial. AT ALL DRUG STORES and Cheever Day, Prairie tra

this mit says in his petition that he touching on the proposed extensions leased the Harper barn at it the owner of lot 13 in block I, of Olive and Robinson streets to new of Love Street and Cirl of Lakenan & Barnes South Side have the respective properties con tte, and will conduct an approximately the conduct of the co 19 Log and Hog Plagues, Thus

Mins Emily Duchner, of Pel the guest of her sisters, Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. A. S. Houston

DR. H. H. W0 Deputy State Veterinarias Office at Sullivan's Livery Phones: City 108 Mgt Dr. C. A. Rothwell

OFFICE: No. 111 A. South Jeffers Opp. Nat. Bank. Hours, 1 to 2 250 to 5 p. m. Sondays Bite 14 ephone 167. S. D. STOCK ATTORNEY AT LA SOUTH SIDE SQUARE

MEXICO - MISSOU DR. E. S. CAVE, PHYSICIAN and SURG Mexico, Mo. Office—Ground floor in Roles Bldg., next to Hopkins & Edwin

HANNEY PRINTERS AND PRINTERS. MEXICO Savings Bank

Capital and Surplus $160,0 Transacted

A General Banking Built THE PERSON NAMED IN COLUMN